

Henderson Chambers is within walking distance of London Underground and National Rail stations:

Temple (District and Circle Lines): exit the station and turn right onto the Victoria Embankment. Turn left and, with the Thames on your right, walk along the Embankment. Cross Temple Place at the traffic lights, keep walking and then turn left onto Middle Temple Lane. Go through the large white archway and Henderson Chambers is the redbrick building on the right.

Blackfriars (District Line, Circle Line and National Rail): take exit 7 and walk along the Embankment with the Thames on your left. Cross the Embankment and turn right onto Middle Temple Lane. Go through the large white archway and Henderson Chambers is the redbrick building on the right.
